

Why Dogs and Pigs Fight Frederick Bogara Story 1

The pigs said to the dogs, "We are going to fight with you." So the dogs got up and the pigs got up and they met each other. They fought. The pigs tore the dogs' flesh with their tusks. Pieces of those dogs flew all round. But the dogs retaliated and bit the pigs, killing them. This is the way they fought. The dogs were stronger and frightened the pigs. They chased the pigs back to their own place. Those dogs were so much stronger that they scared the pigs. And that is why today dogs and pigs still fight.

Frederick Bogara